NOTICE OF HEARING AND MOTION TO DISMISS UNDER 11 U.S.C. § 707

TO: The debtor(s) and other entities specified in Local Rule 9013-3.

- 1. The United States Trustee, by his undersigned attorney, moves the Court for the relief requested below and gives notice of hearing.
- 2. The United States Bankruptcy Court will hold a hearing on this motion at 9:30 a.m. on September 8, 2004, in Courtroom No. 8 West, United States Courthouse, 300 South Fourth Street, Minneapolis, Minnesota.
- 3. Any response to this motion must be filed and delivered not later than September 2, 2004, which is three days before the time set for the hearing (excluding intermediate Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays), or filed and served by mail not later than August 27, 2004, which is seven days before the time set for the hearing (excluding intermediate Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays). UNLESS A RESPONSE OPPOSING THE MOTION IS TIMELY FILED, THE COURT MAY GRANT THE MOTION WITHOUT A HEARING.
- 4. This Court has jurisdiction over this motion pursuant to 28 U.S.C. Sections 157 and 1334, FED.R.BANKR.P. 5005 and Local Rule 1070-1. The United States Trustee has standing to file this motion pursuant to 28 U.S.C. Section 586(a) and 11 U.S.C. Section 307. This proceeding is a core proceeding. The petition commencing this Chapter 7 case was filed on May 17, 2004. The case is now pending in this Court.

- 5. This motion arises under 11 U. S. C. Section 707 and FED.R.BANKR.P. 1017, 2002 and 4004. This motion is filed under FED.R.BANKR.P. 9014 and Local Rules 9013-1 to 9013-5. Movant requests that this case be dismissed.
- 6. From the lists, schedules and statements filed by the debtors, it appears that they may have the ability to pay a substantial portion of their unsecured debt without hardship.
  - 7. The debtors have listed the following debts:
  - (a) On Schedule D, Creditors Holding Secured Claims, the debtors list two claims totaling $19,062.00, secured by two vehicles. The unsecured portion of the claims total $5,562.00.
  - (b) On Schedule E, Creditors Holding Unsecured Priority Claims, the debtors list two claims totaling $ 3,000.
  - (c) On Schedule F, Creditors Holding Unsecured Nonpriority Claims, the debtors list 18 claims totaling $ 6,353.00.
- 8. The debts listed in the debtor's Schedule of Liabilities appear to be primarily consumer debt. See Debtor's Schedule F. The debtors checked on the Petition that the nature of the debts are consumer/non-business.
- 9. On Schedule I, the debtors list monthly net income of $ 2,836.25 and monthly gross income of $ 3,296.33 or $ 39,555.96 per year. In the Statement of Financial Affairs # 1, the debtors list that 2003 gross income totaled $ 49,483.00 and 2003 gross income totaled 44,500.00. The debtors are married and list no dependents. On Schedule J, the debtors list monthly expenses of $2,978.00.

- 10. On July 7, 2004, the United States Trustee wrote to the debtors for additional financial information. See Att. Ex. 1.
- 11. The debtors failed to respond to the United States Trustee's letter and failed to provide the information requested in that letter.
- 12. The United States Trustee cannot complete his Section 707(b) investigation without the information listed in his letter. Therefore, pursuant to FED. R. BANKR. P. 1017(e)(1), the United States Trustee hereby advises the debtors and their counsel that all of the information listed in attached Exhibit 1, shall be submitted for the court's consideration at the hearing.
- 13. The failure of the debtors to cooperate with the United States Trustee by turning over the information requested prior to or as a response to the Section 707(b) Motion to Dismiss is a basis to dismiss this case for bad faith under Section 707(b) and under Section 707(a).
- 14. The United States Trustee reserves the right to argue that the debtors have an ability to pay under Section 707(b) and that the case should be dismissed on that basis, once the information requested is submitted.
- 15. The United States Trustee argues in the alternative that the 2003 gross income listed on the Statement of Financial Affairs, averaged to a net per month would provide sufficient disposable income to pay creditors in full in a hypothetical Chapter 13 plan.

WHEREFORE, the United States Trustee respectfully requests that this chapter 7 case be dismissed.

Victor Alhaji and Marsha LaToya Brima, Bankr. No. 04-42779

Dear Mr. Andresen:

As you are aware, the Office of the United States Trustee must investigate every debtor pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 707(b). There is incomplete information in the above named case for our office to complete its investigation of this case. Please provide the following information on or before August 6, 2004:

- 1. Copies of last three pay stubs for both debtors.
- 2. Copies of the 2002 and 2003 state and federal tax returns, including attachments (W-2s).
- 3. Provide any documentation showing that any reduction for retirement is mandatory (if nothing is submitted, the United States Trustee shall assume that it is a voluntary contribution).
- 4. Provide any documentation showing that any reduction for a 401K loan or other pension loan is secured by any asset or is subject to mandatory repayment, other than the off set rights against the pension account or the tax consequences.
- 5. Provide a recent statement from the pension loan account, showing the balance outstanding, the amount of the monthly repayment, and the date the loan was incurred.
- 6. The debtors' gross income on Schedule I is significantly less than the gross income listed on the Statement of Financial Affairs, if the debtors' hours or wages have decreased, please provide an explanation.

Please call if you have a question or concern about this letter.

Sincerely,

HABBO G. FOKKENA UNITED STATES TRUSTEE

MEMORANDUM OF LAW IN SUPPORT OF MOTION TO DISMISS

This memorandum is submitted pursuant to Local Rule 9013-2(a). It appears that dismissal of this Chapter 7 case is appropriate under 11 U.S.C. 707(b).

Analysis of Section 707(a)

Section 707(a) provides:

The court may dismiss a case under this chapter only after notice and a hearing and only for cause, including —

- (1) unreasonable delay by the debtor that is prejudicial to creditors:
- (2) nonpayment of any fees and charges required under chapter 123 of title 28 [ 28 U.S.C. § 1911 et seq.]; and
- (3) failure of the debtor in a voluntary case to file, within fifteen days or such additional time as the court may allow ... the information required by paragraph (1) of section 521, but only on a motion by the United States trustee.

11 U.S.C. § 707(a). Dismissal for cause is not limited to the three examples set forth in Section 707(a); use of the word "including" means that the examples are nonexhaustive. Huckfeldt v.

Huckfeldt (In re Huckfeldt), 39 F.3d 829, 831 (8th Cir. 1994) (see citations therein).

The Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals has specifically adopted the reasoning of the bankruptcy court in In re Khan, 172 B.R. 613 (Bankr. D. Minn. 1994) to determine whether bad faith may be "cause" under Section 707(a). Huckfeldt, 39 F.3d at 832. The Bankruptcy Court in In re Khan, held that bad faith under Section 707(a) is the following:

[T]he Court should look first at the debtor's manifested attitude toward the integrity of the bankruptcy process. The real question should be whether the debtor is in bankruptcy with an intent to receive the sort of relief that Congress made available to petitioners under the chapter in question ... and is willing to responsibly carry out the duties that Congress imposes on debtors as the cost of receiving such relief.

[B]ad faith in the filing of a Chapter 7 petition would be evidenced by a pervasive and orchestrated effort on the party of the debtor to obtain the benefits of a bankruptcy filing while at the same time intentionally and fraudulently taking action to avoid any of the detriments. Such an effort might involve ..., without a concomitant acceptance of the statutory duties of financial disclosure, cooperation with the trustee, and surrender of non-exempt assets.

172 B.R. at 625 (citations omitted).

The failure of the debtors to provide the information requested in the Motion to Dismiss is cause to dismiss this case under Section 707(a). Under Section 707(b), Congress designated the United States Trustee as the only party, besides the Bankruptcy Court, who has standing to bring a Section 707(b) motion to dismiss. 11 U.S.C. § 521(3) states that "the debtor shall …cooperate with the trustee as necessary to enable the trustee to perform the trustee's duties under this title." See 11 U.S.C. § 324(a) (stating that bankruptcy court had power to "remove a trustee, other than the United States trustee." Therefore, indicating that the use of the term "trustee" in the Bankruptcy Code may include the United States trustee.). In addition, Local Bankruptcy Rule 2020-1 provides: "The ... debtor shall comply with all reasonable requirements promulgated by the United States Trustee with respect to ... furnishing information and the debtor shall cooperate with the trustee and the United States Trustee in furnishing information reasonably required for the proper administration of the estate."

The information requested by the United States Trustee in attached exhibit 1 is reasonable and should not be burdensome for the debtors to acquire. Most of the information requested consists of check stubs or receipts for regularly monthly bills, copies of tax returns or loan agreements, which one would expect an individual to maintain or would expect to be easily obtainable.

The United States Trustee will request that the Bankruptcy Court dismiss this case for cause pursuant to Section 707(a) if the debtors fail to cooperate with the United States Trustee's Office in its investigation pursuant to Section 707(b) by turning over the information requested pursuant to Federal Bankruptcy Rule 1017(e)(1).

Analysis of Section 707(b)

A Motion to Dismiss for Substantial Abuse is governed by Section 707(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, which provides:

After notice and a hearing, the court, on its own motion or on a motion by the United States trustee but not at the request or suggestion of any party in interest, may dismiss a case filed by an individual debtor under this chapter whose debts are primarily consumer debts if it finds that the granting of relief would be a substantial abuse of the provisions of this chapter. There shall be a presumption in favor of granting the relief requested by the debtor. In making a determination whether to dismiss a case under this section, the court may not take into consideration whether a debtor has made, or continues to make charitable contributions (that meet the definition of 'charitable contribution' under section 548(d)(3)) to any qualified religious or charitable entity or organization (as that term is defined in section 548(d)(4).

11 U.S.C. § 707(b) (1994) (as amended by Religious Liberty and Charitable Donation Protection Act of 1998). The United States Trustee bears the burden of showing substantial abuse. In re Dubberke, 119 B.R. 677, 679 (Bankr. S.D. Iowa 1990).

(1) The Debts Are Primarily Consumer Debts.

Section 101(8) of the Bankruptcy Code defines "consumer debts" as "debt incurred by an individual primarily for a personal, family, or household purpose." 11 U.S.C. § 101(8) (1994). "Debt" is defined as a "liability on a claim." 11 U.S.C. § 101(12) (1994). "Claim" is defined as a "right to payment, whether or not such right is reduced to judgment, liquidated, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, disputed, undisputed, legal, equitable, secured, or unsecured." 11 U.S.C. § 101(5)(A) (1994).

The purpose of the debt generally determines whether a debt is a consumer debt. Zolg v. Kelly (In re Kelly), 841 F.2d 908, 913 (9th Cir. 1988); In re Palmer, 117 B.R. 443, 446 (Bankr. N.D. Iowa 1990). If the credit transaction does not involve a business transaction or a profit motive, it is usually regarded as a consumer debt. Palmer, 117 B.R. at 446 (citing In re Booth, 858 F.2d 1051, 1054-55 (5th Cir. 1988)); In re Berndt, 127 B.R. 222, 223 (Bankr. D.N.D. 1991) (citing Kelly and Booth, but distinguishing Booth by concluding that private investment debts, not used to further an ongoing business, were consumer debts).

In the present case, it appears that the debts listed on Schedule F are primarily consumer debts.

The debtors checked on the Petition that the nature of the debts are consumer/non-business.

(2) The Granting of Relief under Chapter 7 Constitutes Substantial Abuse of Chapter Seven of the Bankruptcy Code.

To satisfy the "substantial abuse" standard under Section 707(b), the Eighth Circuit has ruled that the primary consideration is whether the debtor has the ability to fund a 13 plan. In re Walton, 866 F.2d 981, 984 (8th Cir. 1989) (following In re Kelly, 841 F.2d 908, 914-15 (9th Cir. 1988); United States Trustee v. Harris, 960 F.2d 74, 76 (8th Cir. 1992); Fonder v. United States, 974 F.2d 996, 999 (8th Cir. 1992); Huckfeldt v. Huckfeldt (In re Huckfeldt), 39 F.3d 829, 831 (8th Cir. 1994) (comparing § 707(b) to § 707(a)).

While bad faith on the part of the debtor may constitute substantial abuse under Section 707(b), bad faith is not required to be shown to satisfy the "substantial abuse" standard when the debtor is otherwise able to repay his or her debts out of future income:

This is not to say that inability to pay will shield a debtor from section 707(b) dismissal where bad faith is otherwise shown. But a finding that a debtor is able to pay his debts, standing alone, supports a conclusion of substantial abuse.

Walton, 866 F.2d at 985 (quoting In re Kelly, 841 F.2d at 914-15); Harris, 960 F.2d at 76 (stating that "egregious behavior" by the debtor is not a necessary element for a Chapter 7 case to be dismissed under Section 707(b)). While the unique hardships and the good faith of the debtor are relevant factors, those factors are not as important as the ability of the debtor to fund a Chapter 13 plan. Walton, 866 F.2d at 983; see also Harris, 960 F.2d at 77 (rejecting the "totality of the circumstances" test espoused by the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals in Green v. Staples (In re Green), 934 F.2d 568, 572 (4th Cir. 1991), in favor of examining whether a debtor may fund a Chapter 13 plan out of future income).

Whether the debtor is eligible to file a petition under Chapter 13 after a Section 707(b) dismissal is also not a relevant factor, and likewise, the debtor cannot be forced to file a Chapter 13 petition after a 707(b) dismissal order is entered if the debtor is qualified for Chapter 13 relief. Fonder, 974 F.2d at 999. "The essential inquiry remains whether the debtor's ability to repay creditors with future income is sufficient to make the Chapter 7 liquidating bankruptcy a substantial abuse of the Code." Id.

In addition, the Eighth Circuit holds that a bankruptcy court may reject the credibility of amended schedules when the amendments are offered after a Section 707(b) motion is filed and the amended schedules seek to decrease income and/or increase expenses because the debtor swore as to the accuracy of the initial schedules. Fonder, 974 F.2d at 1000.

In the present case, the debtors have a duty to cooperate with the Office of the United States

Trustee by providing it with information to determine whether the case should be dismissed for substantial abuse. Under Section 707(b), Congress has designated the United States Trustee as the only party, besides the Bankruptcy Court, who has standing to bring a Section 707(b) motion to dismiss. As noted above in the analysis of Section 707(a), the debtor has a duty to cooperate with the United States Trustee pursuant to the Bankruptcy Code and the Local Bankruptcy Rules. Federal

Bankruptcy Rule 1017(e)(1) recognizes that the debtors must turnover information by allowing the United States Trustee to designate the documents that must be submitted by the debtor prior to or at the hearing held pursuant to Section 707(b).

This Bankruptcy Court, in In re Veenhuis, 143 B.R. 887 (Bankr. D. Minn. 1992)(Dreher, J.), noted that the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals did not eliminate bad faith analysis under its ability to pay analysis:

[T]here is nothing in either Harris or Walton that suggests that the ability to fund a chapter 13 plan out of future earnings is the only factor to consider [for Section 707(b) abuse]. On the contrary, the Walton court expressly stated that 'the court may take the petition's good faith and unique hardships into consideration under section 707(b).' Walton, 866 F.2d at 983. Furthermore, both Harris and Walton cited with approval language from In re Kelly, 841 F.2d 908 (9th Cir. 1988), stating that the inability to fund a chapter 13 plan out of future earnings will not 'shield a debtor from section 707(b) dismissal where bad faith is otherwise shown.' Harris, 960 F.2d at 76; Walton, 866 F.2d at 985. To hold otherwise would defeat section 707(b)'s goal of denying a discharge both to debtors who are non-needy and those who are dishonest....

In re Veenhuis, 143 B.R. at 888.

The failure of the debtor to submit the information requested will prevent the United States

Trustee from determining whether substantial abuse is present. It is reasonable that such conduct by the debtor, which cause the United States Trustee and the Bankruptcy Court to be unable to make an ability to pay analysis, is a basis to dismiss a case for substantial abuse.

The United States

Trustee requests that the Bankruptcy Court dismiss this case for substantial abuse if the debtors fail to provide all of the requested documentation at the hearing on this motion.

WHEREFORE, the United States Trustee submits this memorandum in support of his motion to dismiss the above-captioned case as a substantial abuse of the Bankruptcy Code.
